Ministry has been interesting during this season of change. I have spent more time in my office, making many phone calls and having meetings and bible studies by Zoom. There have been no hospital visits, nursing home visits, meetings and corporate church services.

I have always known, but have been reminded, of the value of relationships and being able to see people face to face. Being able to have conversations, look into someone's eyes and give encouragement and a smile when needed. When someone is hurting the ability to give a hug or shed a tear with them, grab their hand and pray together.

I have come to recognize the value of corporate worship. The ability for a body of believers to join together, lift up their voices in song and praise God together for who he is and what he has done within each of our lives. I look forward to, and long for, that day we once again will be able to join together to give God the glory he so deserves.

During this time many of you have been watching our services and I am grateful. I know that right now you have the opportunity to watch any service you would choose and for some of you, several on a Sunday morning. I am thankful we all have those opportunities. I pray that when we have the ability to meet again that this time apart will bring us back with renewed energy and a greater passion to share Jesus with others. I also pray that it will grow you into who God has called you to be.

I am also incredibly thankful for your prayers and encouragement during this time. I have had time to reflect on my love for you as a congregation. I have a renewed energy to challenge and lead you and am excited about the future opportunities that will come our way as a church. I am thankful for your continued generous giving during this unique time. Your gifts are allowing us to continue to do ministry and be there for you. Thank you!!! I am looking forward to the work of the ministry teams that they will be and are already doing. Together we will celebrate what God is doing.

We are beginning to plan what it might look like when we are able to gather once again. I'm sure it's going to be unique. In the meantime, continue to watch our services online on Sunday's at 10:00 am live or anytime during the week. I would encourage you to become a part of one of our study groups. On Wednesdays we are meeting at 6:30pm and will be starting, the first Wednesday in May, a study called "Makers" which is on discipleship. On Thursdays at 6:30pm, we are doing a study on the book of James entitle "Eyewitness". If you are interested call the office for the meeting ID and password. I have truly enjoyed these times and am getting to know those who are a part of them better each week. We have had some great conversations and it has been a blessing.

I continue to pray for you. I know some of you are without jobs, others have had to shut down your businesses and others are diligently working in our hospitals and nursing homes keeping people healthy. I am here for you. If you need help with something, or simply need prayer, shoot me a text or give me a call. I am also daily, right at noon, going live on my Facebook page with some words of encouragement. I am hoping that as I do, that it is bringing a little light into someone's dark day.

In the meantime, I am reminded that God is good, all the time, and all the time, God is good. We will get through this, with God we will prevail, and God will use this for good. Maybe you have already seen that. I have!! Blessings and prayers and I look forward to our return and gathering soon.

Love you all!!!

Hello First Reformed Church,

Your Devil Crushing Ninja Trainer (Youth Director for short) here to give you an update on what is happening and hopefully encourage you! We have been very active since the start of this pandemic. However, we are not seeing the number of students we would like to see as active. We would like to encourage all of you parents to encourage your children to be engaged with the youth activities. If not the other activities, at least Wednesday night Bible studies. We are very encouraged to see the students that we do have attending every week. Thank you very much parents for making youth group a priority. We are hoping that we can get back to meeting regularly again very soon. We still plan on meeting until the end of May, so please make sure your children are staying engaged with Junior High and High School.

As stated before we are still not sure if Rocky Mountain High and other summer activities are going to be happening this summer. May 15th is the day that a final decision will be made. Please be patient with us and the other members of the Synod as they have some very difficult decisions to make. We hope that we can go, but we have to make sure that your children will be safe. Again, once we have a decision that is made we will let you all know!

Please remember to check the calendar for all of the different activities that we are offering. If you ever have any questions or concerns please contact me! If you ever need a hug..... wait, oops sorry I forgot..... if you ever need a six-foot apart air high five this big ole teddy bear has got one for you!

Blessings,

Josh Lucas

Bible Study Opportunities

Such things were written in the Scriptures long ago to teach us.
And the Scriptures give us hope and encouragement as we wait patiently for God's promises to be fulfilled.

Romans 15:4

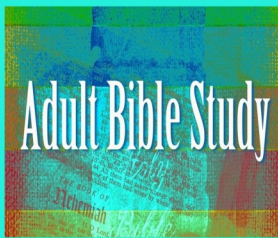

Faith Bible Study, who meets the third Monday of most months, will not meet in May Patience Bible Study, who meets the third Monday of most months, will not meet in May.

The Monday Night Ladies Bible Study is on break until we can meet again

Each week we are offering Zoom Bible Studies. To participate all you need to do is download the zoom app on your phone, tablet, or computer. Then at the time of your Bible Study simply join a meeting to join the study.

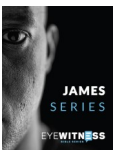

Zoom has implemented some changes to increase online safety. You will be asked for Meeting ID which is 661-753-1162. You then will be asked for the Password for the meeting. Due to safety issues, you will need to contact Pastor Luke at lukefrc@gmail.com for that specific code.

Each Bible Study that we are offering originates from RightNow Media. If you do not currently have an account, please visit our website to get your login account. Once you have your account Login you can log into www.rightnowmedia.org. To get the most out of your Bible Study each week we encourage you to please watch that week's video prior to meeting time.

New Studies Beginning this week (April 19, 2020) are as follows:

Wednesday Nights at 6:30pm "Makers"

Discipleship is at the very heart of the ministry of Jesus. It should be at the heart of the life of the Christian as well! This series has been designed for those that are wanting to fulfill God's plan for their lives of being Disciples of Jesus, and making Disciples of Jesus.

Thursday Nights at 6:30pm "James"

The James Series is composed of narrative accounts by Bible personalities of different subjects discussed in James, such as Barnabas speaking of wisdom or King Solomon discussing foolishness.

Dalten Lee Bremer

I plan to attend the University of Iowa and major in Physics. My favorite church memory is of Pastor Gary always giving him a "high five" and a piece of candy whenever he saw me in church.

Class of 2020

Lydia Rose Buysman

I will be graduating from the Northwest Iowa Community College's alternative High School Program. As of now my future plans are undecided.

Faye Frances Carda

I will hopefully attend either Minneapolis College of Art and Design or Milwaukee Institute of Art and Design. My favorite church memory attending Rocky Mountain High and seeing the Holy Spirit flow through the attendees.

Jennifer Vanessa Cuadros

I plan on attending Northwest Iowa Community College for nursing to get my RN. I believe that my faith has grown so much since I first started going to the First Reformed Church, and God plays a big part in my life everyday.

Clint Allen Henrichs

I am currently attending Northwest Iowa Community College for Computer Network Security.

Ashilyn Rose Hulstein

I plan on attending South Dakota State University to major in Wildlife and Fisheries Conservation. Things that grew my faith would be working at VBS as a class helper and going on Mission Trips. Seeing the differences we were making in peoples' lives left a lasting impact on my life and my faith.

Natalie Kay Klaassen

I plan on attending Northwest Iowa community college for 2 years then possibly attending Grand Canyon University to finish my degree. I feel that I grew the most spiritually when we went to the Texas mission trip. I honestly did not want to go at first, but I'm so glad I did. I will never forget that trip and I encourage anybody who wants to feel Gods work, to go on a mission trip with Samaritans Purse. I met so many amazing people and I came back with a better relationship with God.

Elizabeth Eunice Wynia

My future plans are undecided as of right now. My favorite church memory is of helping with Daily Vacation Bible School.

Andrew John Zylstra

At this time, I am undecided about college. I am currently working at Zylstra Feed Lot.

Thoughts

One of the more memorable hunts of my life occurred about a decade ago, but the irony of this memory actually has nothing to do with an animal or an actual hunt.

A group of us connected up at a friend's hunting property in northern Michigan. We had been hunting together for several years and had always camped out on this property as we hunted. Well, the owner of the property decided that he wanted a more permanent camping scenario, so he bought an old full sized camper to leave on the property for us all to sleep in. The camper had been placed there during the summer months, and none of us had gone in it to check its condition prior to us using it.

We all just showed up -ready to sleep in this rig. As we tossed our gear in the camper, we were all looking forward to being in this bigger and better outfit. That night, we all were trying to drift off to sleep when we started hearing sounds coming from the walls - scratching noises.

We laid there awake trying to figure out what it was. But, it wasn't until the middle of the night that we finally figured out what was happening. The "new" camper was infested with mice!

Several of us awoke to the pitter-pattering of mouse feet across our sleeping bags. They were everywhere! We did stay in there for the night. But, I took my sleeping bag, pulled it over my head, and cinched the draw string down to the point where the opening of the sleeping bag was about the size of a quarter. Just large enough for me to get a breath of air through...and of course I was praying that no mouse hopped through the little hole that led to the interior of my sleeping cocoon.

I'm not sure if I got one second of sleep that night! Wow! Did we have an infestation. We had hundreds of mice that were scampering around the camper everywhere. It was disgusting!

Action Point

There are times in our lives where we need to sit down and take a serious assessment of our lives. How are we doing as husbands/wives? How are we doing as a parent? How am I doing as a son or a daughter...?

It is my personal belief that way too many of us as Christians are being absolutely infested by the messages of the world. We are trying to live double lives . . . a Christian life and a worldly life! It flat out doesn't work to do this.

Technology is great and can be used for wonderful ministries (such as this one). But, how much info do you need in your life? How much time are you spending on the internet? Your cell phone? Social Networks? Blogs? The list could go on and on. But the point is simple. Are you controlling these "tools" or are they controlling you? An addiction is an addiction!!!

Sportsmens Tip of the Day

Make sure if you are going to leave a vehicle out in the woods for later use, that you seal it up tight as a drum, so that you don't have unwanted or unexpected visitors later on.

"For giving is living" the angel said.
"Go feed the hungry sweet charity's bread."
"And must I keep giving and giving again?"
My selfish and querulous answer ran.
"Oh, no!" said the angel piercing me through.
"Just give till the Master stops giving to you."

Consistory Meeting Highlights

No April Consistory Meeting.

Rowland and Jane Van Es in Kenya April 2020

About a year ago, we were preparing a memorial service for Jane's Mom. What a blessing it was to gather as a family to remember Trudy—to have her friends and church family come together to tell us how she had impacted them in some small way that we would have never otherwise known. Receiving all those hugs of condolence at the service healed our souls and soothed our broken hearts. As Jane was thinking about this, she began to cry for all those who can- not have this experience now due to the pandemic. In the months leading up to Trudy's death, we were in Michigan on home service so we were able to visit her regularly while she was in hospice care. Jane was thinking of all those who in the current situation of social distancing cannot physically be with their loved ones. She was also thinking of all those wonderful hospice workers and volunteers as well as chaplains and pastors who ministered to her mom in those final weeks. How difficult it must be for them now to have restricted access to those very people they want to comfort. And this brought tears again. For some, this sadness may seem like a lack of faith. As we look through social media we see people saying that we should not be sad or afraid because God is with us. And of course, this is very true. But sometimes the way they say it seems to include a condemnation—the idea that if you are sad or afraid in these difficult times then you don't trust God. However, there is plenty of evidence in the Bible that God wants us to cry out and express all of our emotions. Consider the Psalms of Lament. First, notice how many there are, both individual (like Ps 54) and communal (like Ps 44). The Israelites were not afraid to take everything to God in prayer, even their laments. Next, notice that usually after the opening invocation and honest complaint, there is also a confession of trust, then a petition for help, and finally a vow of thanksgiving. We can pray like that, too. Two weeks ago, the government of Kenya banned all weddings, funerals, and public gatherings to curb the coronavirus. While we see the wisdom of this, we still cry for all those who have lost a loved one at this time. In Kenya when someone dies everyone goes to visit the family at home. Usually, there are so many visitors that they need to set up a tent in the garden to hold them all. Hundreds of people will come every day to sit with the family, to pray with the family, to help the family plan for the funeral, and to raise money for any unmet expenses. Widows and orphans are always vulnerable when they lose their husband and father—how much more so when they cannot have the support of their community. So now we cry out for Catherine, from Jane's Bible study group, who lost her husband last Saturday and now is sitting at home alone with her four young children. We cry out for Miriam, one of our students, who lost her father on Tuesday and whose family didn't receive any financial support in their time of loss. Miriam now wonders if she will be able to return to school once we open again. We pray for our former students who are now serving as pastors. We cry out for them as they are frustrated in their desire to comfort those who mourn. Life is hard right now. We see the consequences of injustice more clearly in this time of crisis. We cry out not because of our lack of faith but because we know that our Lord is so loving. God will accept our cries of anguish and will comfort all those who mourn. This is what brings us hope. "May the God of hope fill us with all joy and peace as you trust in him, so that you may overflow with hope by the power of the Holy Spirit" (Ro 15:13).

From the library--

I was desperate, I needed a book to read and didn't have a whole lot of choice among the new library books waiting to be brought to church. I found one, MY JOURNEY by Robert Schuller and debated, remembering the controversy over the Chrystal Cathedral in the 80's. So thinking, "if I don't like it, nothing says I have to read it" I started reading the very thick book.

From the first chapter I was hooked. Pastor Schuller has an interesting way of writing. The book is in three sections: "Small Beginnings," the first one, about his birth and growing up in a Dutch household in the 20's and 30's. He had a very humble beginning and life on the farm was not easy. The second part is "The Wonder Years" and he tells about starting the church at a drive in theater and later obtaining land and building. It was just amazing how God was blessing his work and providing money. The last section is "The Summit Years." He writes about where his fame lead him and some of the health issues he had to deal with.

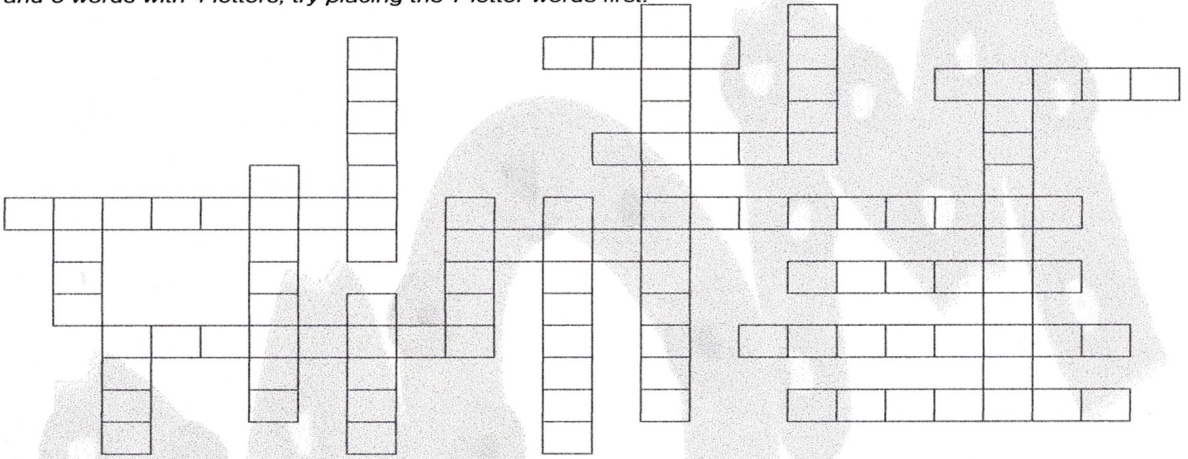

Final note: I could relate to growing up In the Dutch family and different incidences he related. Since he grew up in Sioux County, the towns he talks about will be familiar also to you. I don't think I will ever drive through Newkirk again without remembering that he graduated from high school there and his wife was from that area. He was a man of God even with all his dramatics (a talent God gave him and he used for God's glory) and a man of faith.

If you are able to get to church Monday through Thursday, be sure to check out the books that are displayed in the hallway near the office.
