

B-Dawg's Buzz by Brenda Post, Secretary

My job list at church is ever evolving from my original job “duties”. It wouldn’t believe some of the things that I do here that never make it on to job description page. That’s okay, it keeps things interesting here. I can say that my job is never the same from day to day and week to week.

I remember working with Pastor Gary and cleaning out refrigerators with him every 3 months. It was something we would do together and after he left it has become my job. I run errands for people, I have taken care of babies both in and out of the office, I even fix cable t.v. problems! I am the one people turn to answer all of their questions, and to remember how things were done in the past. I get all the supplies for the church from the biggest to the smallest of things. Some days my to-do list is long with no end in sight and some days I do not even begin to touch the list because other things will happen that trump whatever plans I may have had that day.

One of the things that I do here is talk to people. I know that may sound strange, but it is a big part of the job. There are so many people hurting, struggling or simply lonely. My heart aches for those people. I know that like many wounded people, they find it hard to trust others, so I take this part of the job very seriously. “Oh Lord, I pray silently, help me say the right things.”

We've all been there. Perhaps we find ourselves with a friend, family member, or even a stranger who is hurting. There are some things to remember about those who struggle. Reach out with unconditional love. A hurting person may display intense emotions—tears, anger, bitterness, frustration, or sarcasm. We may feel tempted to withdraw from such emotional displays, but we need to draw near to the person who is in pain, just as God helps us when we're in need.

Try to understand rather than fix the hurting person's feelings. We may mean well when we try to persuade a hurting person to "cheer up," but suffering is often an integral ingredient of the spiritual experience. We must acknowledge a person's pain, not try to put a band-aid over it.

Find specific ways to be supportive. People in pain are often reticent to ask for help. Someone who is ill or bereaved may need you to bring food or offer to baby-sit. A friend facing a frightening medical test or hospital stay probably would appreciate your offer to go with her. Even little expressions of love—a hug, a note in the mail, an invitation to come over—can mean a great deal to a hurting person.

Share your own times of struggle. I've found hurting people benefit when they can talk with someone who's open about their own struggles. Such honesty breaks down the barriers of separation that suffering often creates. God is glorified when I'm willing to tell others how far he's brought me, as well as my continuing need for his power to guide and deliver me in times of temptation or difficulty.

Finally, Pray for those with whom you're sharing. We may tend to focus primarily on what we can say or do to help a hurting person, but don't forget the power of prayer. It's still our greatest tool for helping others.

And the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, will himself restore you and make you strong, firm and steadfast. 1 Peter 5:10

Words from Pastor Luke

March 2017

First Reformed Church

Glorify God in all we do,
Grow with Him daily and
Go with Him to share His love.

March is on it's way. In the coming months, there are many things once again happening within our church. We continue to move forward. Once again I want to update you on upcoming church activities.

Many of you received our new directory this past month. (The bright yellow book). You will find several bits of information in it from contacts for the office, our website info, and other activities that happen at church weekly or monthly. You will also find all our elders and deacons and their calling districts. Each elder and deacon has a responsibility for our members within this church. I encourage you to take the time to check out who your elder and deacon are. At some point they will also be contacting you. If you have any needs or concerns talk to your elder/deacon representative.

We also now have someone new on staff. As a consistory, coming from a recommendation from both the Worship and Administrative teams, we hired Brenda Kuhl as our new worship coordinator. Brenda will be helping coordinate volunteers for music ministry as well as other areas of worship in which we might have a need. We are striving to improve opportunities for lay leadership involvement in both our Cornerstone and Open Door services. In the coming month we will be searching out anyone interested in using their gifts and talents to enhance our worship services. This includes musicians, singers, readers and those who are gifted in prayer. Brenda is hired on a part-time basis working about and average of 6 hours per week.

The Discipleship Learning Team is also looking for those who are willing to join us in not only evaluating our current ministry opportunities but help us brainstorm new ways in which we can grow our children, youth and adults to become authentic disciples going out in to this world to make disciples. We are looking for 10-15 people to join our team. If you would like more information please call the church office or Pastor Luke.

We are also currently looking at bids to improve our lighting, sound and video resources in our sanctuary. In the coming months we will continue to update you on that progress. We recognize that this an area of needed improvement that will enhance our worship experience.

When it comes to our high school and college youth there are many things happening in the coming months. First both have big trips planned for this summer. The High School Remnant group will be traveling to Rocky Mountain High in July. Currently we have 50 people going. 43 students and 7 adults. This month we have our annual soup supper. The money raised from this event will help reduce their cost. You can also volunteer to bring soup, pies and some other food items or you can simply donate money to help cover our costs.

At the end of March we are once again going to be selling submarine sandwiches. Last year this was a big hit and again it will help each student in reducing their cost for their trip. They should be contacting you about placing an order however you will also find an order form in an upcoming bulletin. We have discovered they are great as the many farmers are getting back into the field for spring planting. It is also just a simple meal for anyone needing something quick to eat at home.

In regards to our Youth Pastor position our search team continues to diligently look for the right candidate. Please lift them up in your prayers as well as the individual who God is calling to serve here. Pray also that we will find that candidate in the coming months.

Finally I wanted to update you about a college/young adult trip to Romania in August. We currently have 12 young adults signed up to go along with myself. Over the next 6 months we will be doing some fundraisers to help cover some of their cost. You can mark you calendar for Mother’s Day as we will be once again host an amazing meal in which you can treat mom to. We are also planning a golf tournament in May for the many golfers ready to get back out and swing the clubs. This area of ministry is a new opportunity for us to continue beyond high school to develop our young adults into the disciples God has called them to be.

If you have any questions about something please contact Pastor Luke, Brenda in the office or you district elder/deacon. If they don’t know they answer we can probably direct you to some who does know our find the answer for you.

Have a blessed month of March and may God continue to grow and challenge you to move from being a fan to a follower who is a completely committed disciple. Excited about what God has in store!
Pastor Luke

News From Brian and Donna Renes

Bayamy, Joël, Jean Nicolas, Moganda...

It would be wonderful if you could meet the young men I worked with last week. I enjoyed getting to know each of them better. Their testimonies inspire me. Bayamy studied Hebrew in Israel for six months and now is doing Biblical Studies in France. His wife and five young children are in their home country in Africa. I asked him if he would go to see them over Christmas and he said that he can’t and won’t see them until June of next year.

Jean Nicolas as well has two young children and has to travel to dangerous parts of his country as he gives support to the translation teams in that area. Moganda, Janvier and the others are eager to learn so that they can meet the needs of translation teams and churches in their respective countries. Each is following God’s call to make the Bible available in the language they can understand.

As the year comes to a close, I give thanks for these young men and for their commitment in bringing the message of hope and of joy to the world.

Brian and Donna     Brian’s ministry: Brian serves as a computer consultant for Bible translation projects. He teaches national workers how to effectively use the computer in their work of translating the Bible into languages such as Quechua, which is spoken in Peru, and the Kuna language of Panama. Donna ministers to Hispanic children in the Sioux Center, Iowa, area through the teaching of English as a Second Language. Learn more at www.rca.org/renes.

- 71. MMSC to allow a survey be taken of the Willing Hands groups to learn if there is support to hire a catering service to prepare lunches for funerals.
- 72. MMSC to approve the minutes.
- 73. MMSC to adjourn following prayer by Pastor Luke.

Spiritual Inventories

Years ago, (before I was even here) some of you filled out a “Spiritual Inventory”. Many of you filled one out and turned them into the office. This form had you list your family, your favorite hymns, your favorite Bible verses, questions about What Jesus means to you and a little history about yourself. Over the years, Pastor Gary, Pastor Bruce and now Pastor Luke use these spiritual inventories when someone passes away from church. These forms are so helpful to us when a loved one dies. Pastor Luke will use these forms as guides for not only himself but the family as well when it comes to planning a funeral.

We do not have a form for every person in this church and that’s ok, but if you desire to fill one out we would encourage you to do so. Spiritual Inventories were placed in your mailbox and there are also some on the Information Center along with a box to return them in. If you have filled one out before, you can do it again. Maybe, your favorite hymn has changed or something in your life has occurred that has led you to a different favorite Bible verse. Whatever the reason, if you do not know, want to make a new one or have never done one, please fill out the sheet and return it to the box at your earliest convenience.

SCARS OF LIFE

Some years ago, on a hot summer day in South Florida, a little boy decided to go for a swim in the old swimming hole behind his house. In a hurry to dive into the cool water, he ran out the back door, leaving behind shoes, socks, and shirt as he went. He flew into the water, not realizing that as he swam toward the middle of the lake, an alligator was swimming toward the shore.

His father, working in the yard, saw the two as they got closer and closer together. In utter fear, he ran toward the water, yelling to his son as loudly as he could. Hearing his voice, the little boy became alarmed and made a U-turn to swim to his father. It was too late. Just as he reached his father, the alligator reached him.

From the dock, the father grabbed his little boy by the arms just as the alligator snatched his legs. That began an incredible tug-of-war between the two. The alligator was much stronger than the father, but the father was much too passionate to let go. A farmer happened to drive by, heard his screams, raced from his truck, took aim and shot the alligator.

Remarkably, after weeks and weeks in the hospital, the little boy survived. His legs were extremely scarred by the vicious attack of the animal. And, on his arms, were deep scratches where his father's fingernails dug into his flesh in his effort to hang on to the son he loved.

The newspaper reporter who interviewed the boy after the trauma, asked if he would show him his scars. The boy lifted his pant legs. And then, with obvious pride, he said to the reporter, "But look at my arms. I have great scars on my arms, too. I have them because my Dad wouldn't let go."

You and I can identify with that little boy. We have scars, too. Not from an alligator, but the scars of a painful past. Some of those scars are unsightly and have caused us deep regret. But, some wounds, my friend, are because God has refused to let go. In the midst of your struggle, He's been there holding on to you.

The Scripture teaches that God loves you. You are a child of God. He wants to protect you and provide for you in every way. Unfortunately, sometimes we foolishly wade into dangerous situations, not knowing what lies ahead. The swimming hole of life is filled with peril - and we forget that the enemy is waiting to attack. That's when the tug-of-war begins - and if you have the scars of His love on your arms, be very, very grateful. He did not and will not ever let you go. ~Author Unknown

FROM THE LIBRARY--

New books have been added to the library – a number of them are mystery, there is one new Amish story, and one adventure set in the heart of Alaska. Before the new books can be put out for your enjoyment they have to be processed--stamped with a church name, glue in the card pocket, check out card and date due slip, etc. You may notice that if the check-out cards look like they have been used before, they have. When we pull the books from the shelves to withdraw them, the card is taken out. In this age of technology large libraries use computers so the new check-out cards are hard to come by. Therefore, if the cards taken from the books only have a few names on them, and the names are written in pencil, they are erased so the cards can be used again. White-out might be used if there is a name written in ink. A slip of paper with the author’s name and title of the book is glued to the new card so it can be used again.

Feel free to use the library and PLEASE BE SURE TO WRITE YOUR NAME AND DATE DUE ON THE CARD AND LEAVE IT IN THE YELLOW CARD BOX.

March Faith In Action:

James 2:26 tells us "As the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without deeds is dead."
We don't have to move mountains to put our faith into action. Even little acts of kindness can enrich our faith and lift up others. This month, we are encouraging everyone - children through 90 year olds - to bring at least one item for the residents of our two local nursing homes. Sibley Rehab needs items for bingo prizes: Little Debbie or other individually wrapped snacks and candy bars. Country View needs items for their general store: jewelry, small knick-knacks, shaving cream, shampoo, lotion, toothpaste & brushes, hard candies, etc.

Willing Hands Group

Willing Hands Group #3 will be responsible for services during the month of March. Co-chairpersons are Jamie and Scott Hulstein, Pauline and Jim Van Engen and Sandy and Dave Lamfers.

You are stronger than you think, because the power of Almighty God is available to you. Your strength is renewed when you trust in Him.
~Kendra Tillman

Sportsmen's Devotional

Bible Study Verses: Matthew 7:1-2

"Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to you." (NIV)

Thoughts

A buddy of mine related this story to me a few weeks ago:
He was driving down the highway when he saw three coyotes crossing the road ahead of him. The first two made it across the highway unscathed; the third was hit and killed by a car.

He said that, as he watched, the first two coyotes that had made it across the road turned in their tracks and headed back to their downed comrade. At this point, I made a big "Aaaaah!", thinking about the two coyotes coming to see how their buddy was. (This is probably the result of too many years watching cartoons and not enough Wild Kingdom.)

However, when they reached the third coyote, they proceeded to drag him from the road-way and devour him.

Action Point

How do we act when others are knocked down in life and struggling? Whether it is a divorce, addiction, poor life choices or a myriad of other problems, do we encourage, uplift, pray and support? Or, do we gossip, speculate and judge? In the fire service, we call the latter, "eating our own" - taking the opportunity to devour another while they are down and struggling. It is no different than what those coyotes did to their own.

Christ makes it clear, "Stop judging." Whether it is our best friend, worst enemy, even a television celebrity or newsmaker, "Stop judging!" Make it a point to pray for someone today whom you know is struggling in life. Better yet, pray for two people - a friend or co-worker and a newsmaker you have never met.

Sportsmen's Tip of the Day

Hunting season always seems way too short; but in many areas, varmint hunting is open year round with just a valid hunting license. Check your local game laws and see if you can keep up on your stalking and shooting skills during the off-season by hunting varmints.
